Years later, I realized that I don't own a permanent placement on the sliding scale between introvert and extrovert.

While I lean toward the introvert side, there are times when I can cross over to the other side of the spectrum. So, I consider myself an outgoing or "extroverted" introvert. Here are 10 things I wish people knew about me.

10 Things I Wish People Knew About Me as an Outgoing Introvert

Being an introvert in a world that generally only works smoothly if you're an extrovert can be extremely difficult. You're expected to perform well in large groups, to frequently socialize, to speak up confidently, and to be outgoing. Being expected to do all that when you're a highly introverted person (me!) is at times mentally and also physically straining.
