Altavista, which as a search engine allows users to find information on any topic listed on web pages, claims to have 45 million different users across the world. At the time of its UK launch in December, it said it would rapidly include 40 million web pages, or 95% of the total in the UK, on its UK-only search pages.

BBC NEWS | Business | Altavista heralds net revolution

AltaVista was a Web search engine established in 1995. It became one of the most-used early search engines, but lost ground to Google and was purchased by Yahoo! in 2003, which retained the brand, but based all AltaVista searches on its own search engine. On July 8, 2013, the service was shut down by Yahoo! and since then the domain has redirected to Yahoo!'s own search site.
